HHIC JOURNAL WINS PRESTIGIOUS MAGAZINE OF THE YEAR 2010 IN THE CBI TRADE ASSOCIATION FORUM AWARDS

The HHIC Journal published by Warner Group Publications wins Best Magazine Award 2010 in the CBI Trade Association Forum Awards.

These Awards recognise and celebrate the remarkable achievements of trade associations across the UK. They aim to foster the search for excellence, to recognise and reward achievement and to encourage the communication and adoption of best practice amongst Forum members throughout the last 12 months.

Now in the 8th consecutive year, the Awards are eagerly anticipated by TAF members as a chance to showcase their hard work and achievements during the previous 12 months, the Awards attract entries from all sectors and from associations of all sizes and have established themselves as an unmissable event in the trade association diary.

Previous winners for the Best Magazine of the Year Award have been the International Federation of the Periodical Press, the Farmers Union and the Society of Estate and Trust Practitioners.

“HHIC is delighted to have won the Trade Association Forum Best Magazine of the Year Award 2010. The magazine has developed considerably over two years and we hope that it is an informative, innovative and lively read for our audience. The purpose of the magazine is to widen the profile of HHIC and the hot water and heating industry that it represents. It does this by attracting important contributors and enables our messages to be heard. But it also provides well-written and interesting articles from a much wider connecting contributor pool. In the last year alone, we have had contributors from Tony Juniper, Physicist Brian Greene, Joan Ruddock, former energy and climate change minister, WWF and Christian Aid. To win this prestigious award is indication that its development has worked.” Jodie Wiltshire, editor.

“It was a great honour to accept the award at the TAF awards and HHIC is thrilled to have won that category. It is a real achievement and the magazine has changed beyond recognition during its new editorship. It is a real testimony to all the hard work that has been put into it.” Roger Webb, director.
